AN ENJOYABLE HALLOW'EEN DINNER.
SUCCESSFUL INTER-PLATOON
SPORTS.
K.O.S.B. OFFICERS AT FESTIVE FUNCTION

Saturday was a red-letter event in the calendar of the Scottish Company of the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps. In the afternoon they held their 2nd annual inter-platoon sports at Happy Valley for the "Kee Cheong" Cup (kindly presented by Mr. R. Shewan last year), and in the evening an enjoyable and successful sporting event was held at the St. Andrew's church, complete with evergreen around the walls and on the ceiling. A stage, at one end of the hall, was arranged to depict that interior of an old Scottish kitchen, complete with fireplace, "swee and tattie" pot, whilst on the mantle piece was an old fashioned tea caddy. The tables were decorated with flowers, etc., but the principal decoration was beehive, a special commission of which was sent out from Home for the occasion. Neep lanterns provided illumination in the old style.

The dinner was held at the Volunteer headquarters, the drill hall being very attractively decorated for the occasion with national flags and the colours of the St. Andrew's ensign interwoven with evergreen around the walls and on the ceiling. A stage, at one end of the hall, was arranged to depict that interior of an old Scottish kitchen, complete with fireplace, "swee and tattie" pot, whilst on the mantle piece was an old fashioned tea caddy. The tables were decorated with flowers, etc., but the principal decoration was beehive, a special commission of which was sent out from Home for the occasion. Neep lanterns provided illumination in the old style.

The Company at dinner numbered about 160, and among the guests present were the following:—At the Chairman's table supporting Capt. D. C. Logan, M.C. (commanding the Scottish Company); Mr. R. M. Dyer (Chief Clerk), Col. L. C. Comyn C.M.G., D.S.O. (Commanding the King's Own Scottish Borderers), Mr. H. T. Cressy, Capt. Dowbiggin, Capt. A. G. Dobbie (Adjutant, the K.O.S.B.), Capt. C. H. Steel (A.D.C. to H.E. the Governor), Dr. G. D. R. Black (Past Chief Clerk), the Hon. Mr. A. O. Lang (Past Chief Clerk), Major G. M. H. Ogilvie, Capt. N. C. D. Brownjohn, Major Macneary, Mr. K. E. Grief (Past Chief Clerk), Mr. J. W. C. Bonnor (Past Chief Clerk), the Rev. J. Kirk Macdonald, the Rev. P. W. Alexander (Chaplain K.O.S.B.), Lieut. Colonel T. A. Robertson, the Hon. W. F. C. J. H. Napier, and Mr. A. Stevenson.

There were all the officers of the King's Own Scottish Borderers present, with the exception of two on duty. There were also present Regimental Sergeant Major Parkinson and Pipe-Major Mackie. Other guests present included Mr. R. E. Lindell, Lieut. Syme Thomas (Engineer Company H.V.D.O.), Capt. Pallott, R.N., Mr. W. Logan, Mr. A. K. Henderson, Mr. K. Sutherland, and Mr. E. W. Carpenter.

Those in Charge.

The Committee in charge of the arrangements comprised Messrs. P. W. Ramsay (convenor), George Duncan, O.B.E., J. W. Blackley, K. McLennan, J. Watson, A. W. Brown, H. G. Howard and Capt. Logan.

The hosts and their guests assembled on the Parade Ground where a cocktail bar had been erected. Shortly after 6 o'clock, the pipers of the Company led the large assembly into the Hall where, after "Grace," pronounced by the Rev. J. Kirk Macdonald, an excellent repast was served.

The haggis was played in according to traditional custom by Pipe-Major Wilson, the dish being borne by Q. M. S. Ramsay, followed by Mr. George Duncan, bearing the barley brea.

The following was the excellent bill of fare:—

The Pipes: "Bress an' Butter."
ORACE.
Scotch Broth.
Tatties an' Herrin'.
HAGGIES.
Wi' a' the Honours
The Pipes: "Hail to the Chief."
ROASTED BEEF.
Tatties, Biled and Chappit.
Kail aff the Turn. Bashed Neeps.
DUMPLIN'.
Biled in a cloot.
Chiesse Wi' Oat Cakes.
An' noo since we ha'e feasted thus,
Which we sace little merit,
Let Meg noo tak' awa' the flesh
And Jock bring in the speerit.

THE LASSIES.

Here's a health to the maids of the North.
Round from the Clyde to the shores of the South.
Country and city girls,
Clever and witty girls,
Dainty and pretty girls,
Drink to them all.

We thank the Scottish lassies in the Colony for the rare dumplin' they ha'e sent us. Man, but they're awfu' guid, and we'll no blame ye if ye tak a wee bit in yer pocoh, ane as tae try it fried fur yer breakfast, when ye leave here in the mornin'.

We are beaudeen to the guid lassies for their generosity, and must contradict the rumour that their guid men are noo wearin' "Isle of Man" marks, as no mony o' them ha'e sich a thing, ane o' them being content wi' a front or else a dicky.

"Hallow'een."

The loyal toast was submitted by Capt. Logan, following which the Rev. J. Kirk Macdonald spoke on the history of "Hallow'een," making the speech on behalf of Mr. J. C. Fletcher, who had been busily engaged all day with the Sports.

The Rev. Kirk Macdonald said:—We all know that it is a festival taken over by the Church. It was known long ago as Hallow Mass; in fact, it was known by the Druids. I do not think that it was known by the Chinese; at least I have not heard of it. (Laughter.) It is a night when ghosts are expected to be seen, and, naturally, and properly, it is associated with All Souls.

Welcome to the "Kosbies."

Captain Logan, in the course of an interesting speech, said that he was proud to have the honour of welcoming the officers of the King's Own Scottish Borderers. "It is," said Captain Logan, "the proudest moment of my life. Recently, I listened to a sermon on pride, but I am proud. I had no doubt of that fact five minutes after I had the privilege of welcoming Col. Comyn and his officers to Hongkong."

Proceeding, Capt. Logan said that this was the second dinner held under the auspices of the Scottish Company, H.K.V.D.C., and that a great deal of its success was due to the fact that they had a Scottish Regiment with them in the Colony. The Scottish Company felt it a great honour that they had been able to welcome the new regiment last week; they were still more honoured by the fact that they had had the first opportunity of welcoming them at a regimental dinner. The regiment that had left had left behind it a jolly good record, but he felt confident that the Borderers would even better that record. He wanted to thank all who had worked so hard for the success of the dinner, especially Messrs. Ramsay and Duncan, Mr. Ramsay had looked after the wines, and Mr. Duncan was responsible for the effective decorations. Capt. Logan thanked the donors of prizes at the sports, and added that he would never have been able to have had the pipe band and full band of the K.O.S.B.'s at the sports but for Mr. Dyer.

In conclusion, Capt. Logan paid a glowing tribute to the many Scottish ladies, who had done so much towards the success of the evening.

Musketry Prizes.

Capt. Logan then presented the prizes for musketry and efficiency. These were as follows:—

Prizes for miniature range shooting presented by Capt. Logan: 1. Sergt. R. Bell, 2. Pte. Sutherland, 3. Sergt. Brown, 4. Pte. J. C. Fletcher (Musketry Course), presented by Capt. Logan, 5. K. McLennan, 2. F. C. Goodman, 3. Sergt. Bell.

At the request of Capt. Logan, Col. Comyn presented the "Kee Cheong" Cup to No. 6 Platoon, who had won it at the sports.

Capt. Logan proposed a toast to the health of Col. Comyn and the officers and men of the K.O.S.B.'s, which was drunk with musical honours and cheers.

Col. Comyn's Reply.

Col. Comyn, replying on behalf of the officers of the Borderers, thanked Capt. Logan for the way in which he had proposed their health and the hearty manner in which the toast had been received. Col. Comyn said that the Island of Hongkong had presented a great sight to his regiment upon their arrival. It had been a wonderful panorama, one which they would not see anywhere else in the world. But nothing had touched himself and all ranks so much as the sight of a group of their fellow-countrymen on the jetty. They were very grateful for their reception. "We Borderers," concluded Col. Comyn, "are very grateful to you. We have come to the conclusion that Hongkong is the place for us. You have told us so. Once again I thank you."

Col. Comyn proposed a toast to the health of the Scottish Company and the guests, coupling with it the name of Capt. Logan and Mr. Dyer.

Mr. Dyer submitted the toast of "Scotland, Scotland for Ever."

The Concert.

A number of musical items were given during the evening by the following gentlemen:—Mr. E. J. Duncan (saxophone solo), Mr. K. M. Logan (violin solo), Mr. J. W. Blackley, Mr. D. L. McWhirter (recitation "Hallow'een") and Mr. W. John.

The "Guisers" in their grotesque make-up contributed much to the merriment of the evening. A capital waltz dance, most ably given by Mr. Sutherland and Pipe-Major Mackie (K.O.S.B.), gave a duet on the pipes.

W. Johnson sang "I belong to Glasgow" and "I'm 94 to-day."

THE SPORTS.

A Successful Function.

Despite counter attractions, such as the leading Hunt Steeplechase at Kwai, the inter-platoon tennis at the C.R.C., football and cricket, etc., there was a very good attendance at the 2nd annual Inter-Platoon Sports of the Scottish Company at Happy Valley. The sports took place on the Hongkong Football Club's ground. All the events were very keenly contested, proved most interesting, and were thoroughly enjoyed.

An added attraction to the meeting was the presence of the pipe and drum band of the K.O.S.B.'s and also the full brass band of the Battalion. The band played selections at intervals during the afternoon; while the pipes and drums marched up and down the ground.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dyer, and the Bishop of Victoria (the Right Rev. C. R. Duppuy).

The sports were more evenly contested this year than last, when No. 6 Platoon (Kowloon Section) won the Cup. Although No. 6 won it again this year, they did not gain the same run-away victory, or acquire it by so large a margin of points.

As stated, the sports were very interesting, and the tug-of-war especially provided a stern tussle; while the Highland fling proved a very interesting and enjoyable introduction.

Prizes Presented.

At the conclusion of the sports, Mrs. Dyer presented the prizes, consisting of miniature cups, to the successful competitors.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The m.v. Japanese Prince, which sailed from New York on September 17th, arrived at Shanghai on October 25th, thus making the journey between the two ports in 38 days.

The possibility that an ocean liner 1,000 feet long may be built at Glasgow, is indicated in inquiries by Clyde shipbuilders. The inquiries, believed to be from the Cunard Line, were as to the feasibility of constructing and operating such a ship, which would be the longest in the world.

KWANTI STEEPLECHASES.

FIRST MEETING A HUGE SUCCESS.

[By RAPIER.]

The opening Steeplechase meeting at Kwanti was eminently successful thanks to the excellent arrangements made by those in charge. Alec Potts, the Clerk of the Course, did not spare himself despite the fact that he was just recovering from a bout of fever.

There were a fair number of cars in the enclosure although most people seem to have gone out by train. More motorists might be attracted if the charge of $5 for parking cars included admission to the enclosure for say not more than three persons.

It might also be advisable to have a $10 subscription to the Hunt for those who do not wish to ride but would like to enjoy the privilege of entry to the "Hunters Arms" and to Steeplechase Meetings.

Distinguished Visitors.

H.R.H. Prince George and Rear-Admiral A. J. B. Stirling were interested spectators and there were also a goodly number of Naval and Military Officers present.

The ladies always provide the brighter part of racing and there certainly were some pretty "moving pictures" in and around the enclosure. They usually have some absurd reason for backing a horse and it is wonderful how often they manage to put their money on the right one much to the surprise and occasional annoyance of their "knowing" escorts.

"Bookies."

The two bookies gave just the right touch to the meeting and punters were further catered for by a double event totalling a $5 cash sweep and a $5 cash sweep for winners. The big $2 sweep was drawn and the results shown after the third race.

I was glad to see Mrs. R. J. Paterson and Mr. H. Birkett amongst the winning owners, as they are both responsible to a great extent for the existence and success of these meetings. Macnamara's win was also a popular one, and I know several people who backed James Pigg solely because they liked the name.

Capt. Sturges rode with his usual skill and Mr. Ralph proved himself a good steeplechaser.

The favourites came home in three races, the two outsiders being Golden Pheasant and James Pigg.

Selections.

It was, of course, impossible to tell which races the different ponies were going out in but my Saturday morning's selections were, nevertheless, very useful. In the first race I selected Morgas as the winner; in the second race I gave the first and second ponies; in the third race I placed October first and Jambu second. October had only to carry 145 lbs. in this race and he would have walked away with it but Mrs. Paterson could not get Ralph to ride him in this race so he was sent out in the first event. In the 4th race I gave Cheriton Vale and in the last race Drake. Unfortunately, Drake unseated his rider otherwise he would probably have won. He is a most difficult pony to ride but Dr. Macgown is usually successful with him.

LAWN TENNIS.

CHINESE R.C. "AT HOME" TO MACAO.

MACAO PLAYERS DEFEATED.

The return matches between the Chinese Recreation Club and Macao were played at Causeway during the last two days, and although Macao were again defeated, this time by 7 matches to 2, their players put up an excellent show against the best combination of the Colony.

The detailed scores are as follows:—

Ng Sze Kwong and C. Choa:
beat Silva and Vidigal, 6-1, 6-3.
beat Villa Franca and Fernandes, 6-1, 6-4.
beat Mello and Xavier, 6-3, 6-1.
Yew Man Tsun and Ho Ka Lau:
beat Silva and Vidigal, 6-1, 6-3.
beat Mello and Xavier, 6-1, 6-1.
M. K. Lo and M. W. Lo:
beat Silva and Vidigal, 6-0, 6-0.
beat Mello and Xavier, 6-10, 6-3, 6-2.
Yew Man Tsun and Ho Ka Lau:
lost to Villa Franca and Fernandes, 4-6, 6-2, 3-6.
M. K. Lo and M. W. Lo:
lost to Villa Franca and Fernandes, 4-6, 6-11.

Much interest centred in Macao's best pair, Villa Franca and Fernandes, who defeated the three Chinese pairs at Macao last August. On Saturday they proved their worth against the Lo brothers, doubles champions of the Colony in 1920, and after a bad start defeated the local pair by two sets to love. The match was certainly the best of the series. There were many long rallies and some excellent tennis was witnessed. Fernandes outshone his partner, while M. W. Lo had an "off" day. The second set was a match-in-itself and the struggle for it was often very exciting.

The news of this pair's success in the first day attracted another good turn out at yesterday's matches, when Villa Franca and Fernandes were engaged against Ng Sze Kwong and C. Choa. The Macao pair got settled after the first set, which they lost, and had hard lines in winning the second set. Ng Sze Kwong was in very good form and often beat his opponents by fine forehand drives. His returns, which kept low, troubled the Macao pair a great deal. C. Choa backed him up very well.

Villa Franca and Fernandes defeated Yew Man Tsun and Ho Ka Lau yesterday. The match went to three sets and was very interesting to watch. Ho Ka Lau was the outstanding player in this match and, perhaps, played his best game this year.

Among the spectators during the two days were Mr. C. Amaral, chief of the Macao Conservancy Board, Mr. H. Nolasco, President of the Macao Club, Mr. C. A. da Rosa, President of the Club Lusitano (Hongkong), and Mr. E. M. R. de Souza, President of the Club de Recreio (Kowloon). Dr. C. Y. Wang, Dr. C. C. Wang, Mr. K. T. Hau, Mr. Un Hew Sau, Mr. E. L. Chao, and Lieut.-Col. T. A. Robertson.

On Saturday night, a dance was held in the Club premises where an enjoyable time was spent by nearly 200 members and guests. Last night, a Chinese banquet was held in their honour in the same place.

The Banquet.

There were nearly one hundred members and guests present at the banquet, over which Mr. Ng Sze Kwong, (President of the Club) presided.

Various felicitous speeches were made by members of the Club and visitors, and a number of toasts were honoured.

Mr. Ng Sze Kwong referred to the enjoyable time which had been spent by all as a result of the visit of the Portuguese players and, while condescending to the visitors on their defeat, he congratulated them on a very excellent performance put up against the Chinese players.

Mr. Villa Franca, replied on behalf of the Macao Club players and paid a high tribute to the standard of play by their opponents during the last two days.

The Macao players return to Macao by the morning boat to-day.

GOLF.

ROYAL HONGKONG GOLF CLUB.

The match between the St. Andrew's and the St. George Societies has been postponed until November 21st and the qualifying round in the Championship and the Jasper Cup Competition have been postponed until November 23rd.

Should there be a tie for the Jasper Cup or last place in the qualifying competition (16 only take place in match play stages of Championship) such ties will be decided over 18 holes on Saturday, November 20th, or by mutual arrangement, before that date.

Yesterday was the last day of playing for the Trophy presented by the British Red Cross Society.

November is the last month of the qualifying Competitions for the Denison Cup, played at Deep Water Bay.

SOUTH CHINA ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

RESIGNATION OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

ELECTION TO-MORROW.

Owing to dissatisfaction on the part of a few members of the South China Athletic Association with the present executive committee, the latter, with the exception of Mr. Richard Shim, baseball manager, and Mr. K. F. June, baseball captain, have resigned. More than 40 officers of the Association are expected to withdraw by November 20th.

The President of the Association, Mr. Mok Wing Yue, has accepted the resignation of the executive committee and is ordering an election of new officers to-morrow (Tuesday) evening. Ballot papers have been distributed and they must be returned before five o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The officers elected will take over their duties on November 20th.

The South China is one of the largest athletic associations among the Chinese in Hongkong and has nearly 2,000 members. The split in the football section some time ago may be traced to complaints against the executive committee.

Leaders of the Chinese community, Sir Shou-son Chow, Dr. R. H. Kotewall, Mr. Tseng Yue Ting, Mr. Mok Wing Yue, all patrons or presidents of the South China Athletic Association, are desirous of seeing one strong athletic association and have more than once tried to patch up the differences between the football players and the executive committee of the Association. In view of the coming Far Eastern Olympiad many Chinese naturally wish to see the training and management of athletes under one strong organization. While the Chinese are united their prospects in games are bright.

JAPANESE EMPEROR'S BIRTHDAY.

SPORTS AT SOOKUNPOO.

A SUCCESSFUL GATHERING.

Yesterday the local Japanese community celebrated the birthday of their Emperor.

The annual Japanese sports were held on the Sookunpoo ground, and the grandstand was decorated with Japanese flags and bunting and there was a crowd of nearly 2,000 Japanese men, women, and children present. An orchestra from one of the Japanese steamers now in Harbour was in attendance. There was also an exhibition of fireworks.

The sports included long distance races for the young men and races for the children. The Japanese Primary School children gave drill exercises and had a tug-of-war, little boys and girls participating. A football match concluded the day's programme.

Refreshments were served from tents, a number of Japanese ladies having charge of the arrangements.

The sports were organised by the Japanese Club of Hongkong, headed by Mr. S. Kinoshita, manager of the N.Y.K. Steamship Company's Hongkong office. After the events of the day, Mr. Kinoshita presented the prizes to the winners.

SMOKERS TO PAY MORE.

INCREASE IN PRICE OF CIGARETTES.

The price of B.A.T. cigarettes and tobacco in Hongkong has again increased, in consequence of instructions received from Shanghai.

It is understood that the increase is due to the value of the Shanghai dollar being lower than that of Hongkong, and if the prices of tobacco in bond in Shanghai were increased it would be necessary to adjust prices in Hongkong, otherwise dealers would buy in bond in Hongkong.

The popular packet of Capstan, which has been selling for 15 cents is now 17 or 18. The tins of fifty which have been selling for 80 cents are now 85 or a little over, while the larger size are now priced between 95 cents and a dollar. Three Castles have increased ten cents to 90.

The latter, in packets of twenty, formerly sold at 32 cents and are now 35. There is one rather brighter spot, however, as Players are now on the market and are selling at 15 cents, the pre-August price of Capstan.

CROWDED HOUSES AT THE QUEEN'S.

RUDDOLF VALENTINO IN "THE EAGLE."

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS AND CONSTANCE TALMADGE.

Whether the closing of the bathing season, or the melancholy interest attaching to the last picture in which the late Rudolf Valentino took the leading role, was the cause, the fact remains that "The Eagle" drew crowded houses at the Queen's Theatre yesterday. At several of the exhibitions many were unable to secure admittance, and it appears likely, judging from the advance bookings, that full houses will be the rule this week.

The picture is of the exotic type. It commences with a review of Russian troops by the Czarina. Rudolf Valentino as a young Cossack lieutenant goes dashing off on the favourite horse of the Empress to stop a runaway carriage in which the heroine is a passenger. Then he becomes an outlaw and a bandit and swears vengeance against a local tyrant who is guilty of many injustices against the peasantry. As the heroine happens to be the tyrant's daughter complications naturally follow and thrilling adventures are pleasantly mixed with sentimental episodes until the climax is reached which consists of a mock execution and a very happy marriage.

But the story is nothing. Rudolf Valentino's splendid ability as a film actor makes the picture, and his wonderful personality is the one that unquestionably attracts the crowd. In "The Eagle" he is well supported by Vilina Blanky, a beautiful Hungarian actress.

Constance Talmadge.
"The Eagle" will be shown until Wednesday. On Thursday Constance Talmadge will appear in "Her Sister from Paris." Any picture in which either of the Talmadge sisters appear may be relied upon to provide a pleasant entertainment.

World Theatre.

Films featuring Douglas Fairbanks are being shown at the World Theatre of Zorro and "Don Q. Son of Zorro." With Rudolf Valentino, Constance Talmadge and Douglas Fairbanks appearing in the same week, Hongkong picture-goers have little cause to complain of any lack of film stars.

Star Theatre.

At the Star Theatre "The Isle of Lost Ships," which is being shown to-night, will be followed to-morrow with "The Great White Way." On Thursday until Saturday "The Reaser" will be given.

HONGKONG'S FINANCES.

STATEMENT FOR JULY.

The financial statement for the month of July shows that the Colony's credit balance at the end of that month was $6,512,370, as compared with $6,590,702 at the end of June.

The revenue from January to July was $11,304,428, as against $14,971,241 in the corresponding period last year, the main shrinkage being in licences and internal revenue, which declined about three million dollars.

The expenditure for the seven months was $12,995,040, as compared with $15,668,667 in 1925.

The revenue from July 1st to 31st was $1,727,184, as compared with $4,086,413, for the same period last year.

The expenditure from July 1st to 31st was $1,504,988, as compared with $1,501,492 for the same month last year.

TRADE POSITION UNCHANGED.

THE BOYCOTT EXTENSION COMMITTEE.

PROTESTS FROM THE MERCHANTS.

THE CONSTANT DEMANDS FOR INCREASED WAGES.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

There is little change in the trade position as far as Canton is concerned. The Taiwan returned from Canton on Saturday without discharging her cargo, and she brought back very few passengers. She left again for Canton yesterday, taking the place of the Fatshan. The Fatshan brought down 500 passengers on Saturday which is above the average number for the past few days.

The merchants are protesting against the action of the so-called Boycott Extension Committee in sending ignorant labourers into shops to inspect and "label" British goods. Many of these "investigation inspectors," it is said, are workers who previously held very minor positions in Hongkong. Some of them were cook-boys and messengers, and American, German and Japanese goods have been labelled British by them. Even goods which have borne an English label "Made in Japan" have been marked British.

The Kuomintang Ministry of Finance is stationing a tax collector at the Canton Chinese Post Office to assess the tax on all parcels entering Canton from outports or foreign countries. The Canton surtaxes, as they are now generally known, will be extended first to Kwangai and, when opportunity presents itself, to Hunan, Hupeh and Kiangsi.

Workers' Demands.

According to an order of the Native Cloth Union Workers the manufacturers of native cloth in Canton will not be able to sell any goods until they have complied with the demands of their workmen for an increase of wages. There are heavy stocks of foreign piece-goods still in existence, and the native piece-goods business has not been good. It is generally understood that the manufacturers are in a tight fix and find it impossible to raise wages. The Kwangtung Cement Works and the Kwangtung Tannery, two Canton Government industries before the days of the Kuomintang, which are now lying idle on account of lack of capital, may, it is said, be leased to merchants for development. The matter is under consideration of the party leaders in Canton.

On account of the inability of the employers in the gold and silversmith shops along the Siu-si Street, Canton, to meet the demands of their employees for higher wages and better service conditions, work in this trade was suspended on October 27th.

Some of the merchants in Shikwan, Northern Kwangtung, are offering themselves for imprisonment in order to escape the continual demands of the militarists that they shall pay cash for war bonds. It is likely, according to report, that the officers of the Chamber of Commerce will be imprisoned because according to the militarists they have been most obstinate in their refusal to help the Northern Expedition. So far, it is said, they have contributed less than $150,000 and are now acting as if they had been unmercifully oppressed.

Houses Burned.

The village of Hoichow, Heungshan, has been partly destroyed by order of General Chien Ta Chun, Garrison Commissioner of Canton. More than 60 houses were burned down and nearly 20 of the village elders arrested. The reason given for these measures is that General Ngai Bong Ping, the new chief of the anti-Red movement in Kwangtung, is a native of this village and that some members of his family have joined the anti-Bolshevik movement.

It is reported that only about twenty-five out of the former hundred officers of the now defunct Kwangtung University will be engaged for the Chungshan, or Dr. Sun Yat Sen University, which is being established on the Kwangtung University premises. Mr. George Hsu Chien, late Kuomintang agent to Moscow, will be chief professor of Political Science. He will be associated in this faculty with Mrs. Liao Chung Hoi, one time a student in Japan, Mr. Kam Nef Kwong, a graduate of the Canton Christian College and Mr. C. Y. Chen Kei Woon, a former principal of the Pui Ying primary school.

THE TROUBLE AT THE ARSENAL.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKES THREATENED.

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND WATERWORKS.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

As already reported the employees in the Kwangtung Arsenal at Shekcheng, near Canton, were dismissed, or rather locked out, by the Kuomintang General Headquarters without notice on October 25th. Some 2,000 workers are concerned and their appeal for reinstatement has so far received no acknowledgment.

Many reasons are given for the drastic action of the Kuomintang on this matter. It is understood that the men have for some time past been truculent and unruly. They have a very strong Union and, as the work in a good many of the departments requires skilled labour, they thought they were indispensable. The result was inefficiency in both production and management and as the Kuomintang could not enforce discipline they decided upon a "lock-out."

The official explanation is that the cost of production did not justify the continued operation of the plant and that the workers were suspended until further notice. Accusation is also made against the workers that they were in league with anti-Reds.

It is said on one side that the Kuomintang have engaged a sufficient number of expert workmen from the Hanyang Arsenal to replace those discharged, and that some of the Hongkong strikers now idle in Canton will be offered the non-technical work. On the other hand it is reported that the Kuomintang's control of the Hanyang Arsenal makes them independent of the Arsenal at Shekcheng and that it matters little if it is closed for the time being.

Now it is rumoured that the men of the Kwangtung Electric Supply Company and of the Canton Water Works, all of whom are members of the Mechanics Union, will declare a sympathetic strike if the Arsenal workers are not re-instated.

If these strikes come about serious trouble is feared.

LABOUR-PEASANT CORPS.

ORGANISATIONS IN HUPEH AND FUKIEN.

BIG PROCESSION ON EASTERN PARADE GROUND.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

Kuomintang information says that, under the immediate direction of General Chiang Kai Shek, Kuomintang Chairman and Commander-in-Chief, a labour-peasant corps of several thousand strong has been organized in Hupeh Province.

From the same source, it is stated that a similar corps has been organized in Fukien Province, and that the strength is 10,000 men.

On October 30th, some 8,000 members of the "labour volunteer corps," representing details from every labour union affiliated with the Kuomintang Workers' Delegate Conference, paraded on the Eastern Parade Ground, for the ceremony of flag presentation. The Kuomintang conferred the red standard of the party on the corps. The 8,000 "volunteers" for the defence of labour were unarmed. When not called to the active service of the Kuomintang, the "volunteers" will act as pickets to maintain union rules and defend the interest of labour in dealing with the "capitalists."

The Central Labour Union of Canton ("anti-Reds") has issued a public manifesto, denying that its organization is "counter-revolutionary" and that it is working against the present Canton administration. It also mentions that the Kuomintang regained power last year from the hands of Generals Liu Chen Huan and Yang Hsi Min partly through the support of the workers of the Central Labour Union.

Unofficial and unfavourable reports from the "front" in Hupeh, Hunan, and Kiangsi—reaching Canton—have caused native banks speculating in Kuomintang war bonds to unload them on the market.

VISITORS FROM CANTON.

SCHOOLBOYS AND ATHLETES.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

Hongkong last week had two groups of visitors from Canton, one being the graduating class of the Canton Union Middle School and the other, the members of the Sun Ah Athletic Club.

The boys from the Pui Ying, as the Union Middle School is known among the Chinese, came to Hongkong purely for educational purposes, and visited the Taikoo Dockyards and other places of interest. The boys, about 50 in all, were directed on the tour by Mr. Chang Hing How, senior member of the teaching staff, and Mr. Wong Wing Lu, a former secretary of the Chinese Y.M.C.A. in Hongkong. Everywhere the boys were accorded a hearty welcome.

The Sun Ah athletes came down to Hongkong to play volleyball, a game to be included in the coming Far Eastern Olympiad. They defeated the St. Paul's College, Queen's College, and the King's College in this game, and only the To Keung Athletic Association team, a Hongkong Chinese athletic club specialized in volleyball, succeeded in checking their successes.

The return of normal traffic between Canton and Hongkong will enable games to be played again between the Chinese of the two cities. Last year, during the boycott, only the True Light Middle School girls were able to come down for a visit of this character. While they were here, it may be recalled, the girls gave a number of entertainments both literary and musical.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.

WINTER PROGRAMME IN FULL SWING.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY TASTE.

(Contributed.)

With the commencement of the winter's programme it has been found that there is something taking place almost every evening at the Y.M.C.A., and no one can say that all tastes have not been catered for.

The first event of the Literary and Debating Club was held last week, and was in the shape of a "Toast Night," and was attended by about thirty-five people. The speeches, which were the feature of the evening, were interspersed with songs, and this innovation was very successful. All through the speeches, which were of a high order of excellence, and we expect a great deal in our coming debates.

The games and sing-song are proving attractive items, and are well attended, while for the future we have a hockey match against the Club and XI tomorrow, followed by a bowls match on November 6th.

We understand that the new clubhouse, that is being built at Kowloon Golf Course, will be opened officially on November 11th, and on this day there a golf match will be played, the Y.M.C.A. against the Kowloon Golf Club. A strong side has been arranged among the Y.M.C.A. golfers, and we hope to give the Golf Club a good run for their money.

Ladies' Night.

This week we are holding the first of our monthly Ladies' Nights. This takes place on Thursday, Association Night, and we hear rumours that an excellent programme has been prepared. If this year's ladies' nights are as popular, and of as high a standard as those held last year, members are assured of entertainments worthy of their attendance.

Among the indoor games, we find that draws have been made for draughts and ping-pong, and the first round of these games is in the process of being played off. Sufficient people have entered their names for these games to make them really exciting.

A Jazz Band.

Weird and wonderful noises emanating from the region of the piano one evening seemed to point to the fact that one of two things was occurring: (a) That there was a fight, followed by a difference of opinion; or (b) that a Jazz Band was in the process of formation, and was in the throes of emergence. Subsequent enquiries showed that the latter was the correct explanation. N.B., In the event of there being sufficient members keen enough to make it worth while, a dance will be held in the near future.

The Soccer match, mentioned last week, has not yet been definitely fixed, but arrangements will be made during the week, and details will be put upon the notice board.

Service Men Welcome.

We are welcoming to our Non-Members Section many men from the Naval contingent that has lately arrived, and it is no uncommon thing to find the reading room filled with them. The K.O.S.B.'s have managed to find their way across, and with all other Service men they are given a very hearty invitation to make use of the portion of the building aside for them. It is hoped in the near future to arrange outdoor games, and possibly indoor amusement for them.

We would be grateful if the gentlemen in charge of the sports on the various ships and military units would get in touch with either of the secretaries, with a view to developing this side of the Non-Members Section. Our phone number is K1371.

HSIA CHAO TAKES TO THE HILLS.

WITH 500 SOLDIERS IN REFUGE OF CHIANTANG GORGES.

NOT EASILY DISLODGED.

General Hsia Chao, after his defeat at the hands of Marshal Sun's troops, took to the hills at the headwaters of the Chientang River. It has been confirmed that he is there now with about 500 troops. Even this small force cannot easily be dislodged from the Chientang River gorges, particularly when they are operating in their own province. General Hsia's plans are not known. Reports that he is waiting for a Cantonese army to join him from Kiangsi are not believed as such a move on the part of the Cantonese would be a great relief to Marshal Sun. Chuan Faig. On the other hand, if he takes to the Chekiang hills and joins bandit groups on the Chekiang-Fukien frontier, he will keep an everlasting peaceful province in chaos until he is exterminated.

General Hsia's friends maintain that he will not use bandits to help him in this situation, as a few years ago he was converted to Christianity. —N.C. Daily News.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.

"PROCEEDINGS WHICH HAVE DIED A SLOW DEATH."

CHIEF JUSTICE'S QUESTIONS.

Sir Henry Gollan (the Chief Justice) sat in Bankruptcy Jurisdiction on Saturday. In dealing with the case of Li Pak, alias Li Ki Tong, a case of thirteen years' standing, his Lordship expressed surprise at the extraordinary delay.

The application, which was for proceedings to be annulled, said Mr. D. W. Tratman (Official Receiver) was made in consequence of his endeavours to clear the office of defunct cases. Since he had put it on the file, however, he had gathered that there was a possible source of assets and he therefore asked for it to stand over.

His Lordship granted the application and, at a later stage, remarked that he had been thinking over the matter of local bankruptcy proceedings. He observed that only one or two applications for the discharge of bankrupts had been made here so far. There was a provision in the local Ordinances having a bearing on the question of discharge which he confessed he had not noticed before. It provided the Official Receiver with power to apply for a bankrupt's discharge in the event of a bankrupt not applying himself. He would like Mr. Tratman to make enquiries as to what the procedure had been with regard to questions of applying for discharge.

Nothing Done.

Mr. Tratman remarked that in looking through old files to clear up the office he had noticed that proceedings had died a slow death and that no attempt had been made to clear them up. He did not think it would be possible in many of the old cases to get hold of the debtor. They were faced with the difficulty that the debtors had not paid the 50 per cent. required and were not likely to do so. Mr. Tratman added that he thought the explanation of the clause referred to by His Lordship was that so many of the sort of offences that bankrupts in this Colony seemed to commit could only be brought before the Court on an application for discharge and it was therefore essential to ensure the attendance of the debtor.

His Lordship: And the section allows the Court to deal summarily with these offences and to sentence such bankrupts to terms of imprisonment not exceeding a year.

His Lordship added that he would like to know what had been the practice in regard to this section. It must, he said, have been inserted after very careful consideration as Saturday's Bankruptcy Court hearing, it was peculiar to Hongkong.

Other Cases.

In respect of Hawthorn and Pearson, the application by the Official Receiver for the release of Mr. Fleming from trusteeship was granted.

In respect of the affairs of Kaley & Co. an order of adjudication was made.

Referring to an application by Mr. C. Bulmer Johnson for withdrawal of a petition presented in connection with the affairs of the Sun Loong firm, His Lordship said that it was his duty to see that the machinery of the Bankruptcy Court was not used for the purpose of extortion. He did not say that there was so in this case but petitions were sometimes filed for the purpose of "putting the screw on." He could not allow the withdrawal of petitions merely because they were asked for and he would like further particulars. The Court must exercise control over the presentation of petitions.

Mr. Johnson said that he had not his client with him as, in fact, no receiving order had been made, and he had not expected to have to call evidence. His Lordship intimated that he would like to hear the evidence as to the circumstances under which the petition was made and he would adjourn the case.

AIR TRAVEL AND THE EMPIRE.

Judging by the numerous articles published in the Press throughout Great Britain, Sir ALAN COBHAM's great flight by aeroplane from London to Australia and back has captured the popular imagination to an extraordinary extent.

His reception on his return, when he alighted on the Thames opposite the Houses of Parliament and was received by the Speaker of the House of Commons, the Air Minister, Sir SAMUEL HOARE, Sir CHARLES WAKEFIELD (who with a few friends financed the enterprise), and many other notable personages has been duly recorded. Hundreds of thousands of Londoners waited for his coming and watched him all along the river as he flew from Gravesend to the landing place and alighted on the water clean and graceful as a gull. This, of course, was the spectacular aspect of the long aerial journey of 23,000 miles. A full mead of praise has been accorded by every writer in the Press to the hero of the great adventure—to his courage, perseverance, and his ability to overcome all sorts of unexpected difficulties and dangers as they arose. It is the realization of this fine spirit of daring that appeals to the public; and the mere act of flying over so many countries and seas stirs the mind as the voyage of Drake or Magellan or Cook must have done in bygone days. Everyone knows, by proxy, the spaciousness and the loneliness of the ocean and the mystery of strange lands, and no doubt something of their magic links the minds of men to the intrepid voyager who has known them in his own person in sunshine and in storm.

The fact to be noted in connection with all the enthusiasm is that Sir ALAN COBHAM was not the first to pilot an aeroplane from England to Australia. Sir ROSS SMITH and Sir KEITH SMITH made the journey in 1919-20, though they did not return by air; and there have been other long distance feats, including the crossing of the Atlantic in one hop by Sir JOHN ALCOCK and Sir J. WHITTON Brown in 1919. But COBHAM has won distinction in a way that none of these airmen succeeded in doing, partly because he never set out to make his efforts a "stunt," and also because he always tells the public what he intends to do. His object in his last voyage through the air was to ascertain whether aerial travel between England and the East, and beyond the East to Australia, is a practical commercial proposition. With this aim in view he avoided risks as far as possible, and he claims that he succeeded because he exercised foresight, and as much caution as he could in the circumstances in which he found himself at different stages of his journey.

What he wanted was to convince people that the greatest invention in history, and the one that will have the greatest effect upon the future of the British Empire, is flying. If air travel can be established as a regular means of communication it is obvious that the widely-separated communities that collectively comprise the British Commonwealth of Nations will be drawn closer together. Sir ALAN COBHAM predicts that this is no longer a mere vision, but a question that can now be considered feasible. What is needed is organisation, and reliable weather reports, and flying should become, he says, an ordinary means of transport. He has collected valuable data for future air routes. Along the Persian Gulf either landplanes or seaplanes can work; and he has discovered new spots on the route he traversed which would be suitable as seaplane bases. The fact that he was caught in a monsoon at Penang gave him very valuable experience as to what is required in such conditions if and when a regular service is established.

This possibility of aerial navigation over long stretches of land and sea has a wonderful fascination. COBHAM with the enthusiasm of a pioneer is already projecting a commercial service. "There would be relays of pilots," he told a representative of the Daily Telegraph on his return to London, "and relays of machines on such a route, and passengers and mails would be delivered as we went. But at first only sections of the route would be linked by air, and the traveller would go by train to Marseilles, by boat to Egypt, by Imperial Airways aeroplane to Karachi, by train to Calcutta (although an air link should soon be established to that city), then by seaplane or flying boat to Port Darwin, and across Australia by aeroplane."

To readers with personal knowledge of weather in the tropics his comment on monsoon storms is particularly interesting. He is under no illusions. A monsoon "storm" can beat any existing aeroplane. "At Rangoon and Victoria Point," said the distinguished airman, "we had four or five inches of rain a day for four days. It simply went through everything. There was nothing for it but to come down and wait. Coming home we tried to get past a monsoon storm near Singapore; we could not get through it or over it. Whether an airship would be better able to circumvent such an obstacle by virtue of its greater duration of flight I do not know. But why wait for the airship when we can do good practical work with aeroplanes and seaplanes now?"

Bearing in mind the rapid development of aviation during and since the war, it would be unwise to say Sir ALAN COBHAM's faith will not be justified in the near future. But however that may be, this may be said—that he is the first practical airman who has realised the necessity of interesting the public in this means of communication. He has had the sense to realise that if the public are to take to the air flying must be proved to be not risky but safe. He constantly repeats, "I went to discover and survey useful air routes. Everything was safe and satisfactory." And it is just because he has never attempted anything novel or risky, and because he has always taken the public into his confidence that he has become a popular hero, the recipient of a knighthood, and the most useful apostle that commercial flying has ever known.

CHINESE "PROPAGANDA" IN LONDON.

With its little typescript sheet, the Chinese Information Bureau, which came into being about a year ago, continues to "enlighten" London readers as to the progress of affairs in China, says the China Express & Telegraph. No. 14, dated September 22nd, gives the interesting tit-bit that "reduction of the military plans for the Singapore base to a minimum" is one of the conditions of Japan's acceptance of British proposals for joint intervention in China arranged at recent "secret parleys" between British representatives and the Japanese Government in Tokyo.

It seems to be forgotten that Japan agreed to the Singapore base scheme at the Washington Conference in return for Britain's undertaking not to extend the naval works already at Hongkong, and that Japanese statesmen have given oft-repeated assurances that a British naval base situated so far away as Singapore is not considered any menace whatever to Japan. The "information" bureau gravely adds the "general belief" that Chang Tso Lin has been invited to participate in the Anglo-Japanese discussions on the subject. While the Chinese delegate at the League of Nations was breaking the rules and giving a Chinese "official" version of how the British Navy was misconducting itself on the Yangtze by using big cruisers to run down native wooden ships, and small boats, and big guns to shoot down civilians by the thousand, the same "information" bureau was telling its readers that "the Wanshan affair has, through the good judgment of the Chinese, now been settled." However, the "information" bureau must have credit for one wonderful "scoop." It has discovered that the formation of a Foreign Legion in which adventures would be welcome to enlist for service in China, is under consideration in London, and it offers an ingenious solution of the very serious unemployment problem by adding that "the unemployed fascists might in this way be induced to combat the nationalist revolutionary armies of China."

We regret to learn that while on holiday in Japan, Mr. E. S. Wilkinson was taken ill and on medical advice has entered the International Hospital at Kobe. As a consequence his return to Shanghai will probably be delayed by about a week, says the N.C. Daily News of October 27th.

Police of the Woosung and Shanghai Constabulary arrested a student who was in possession of a bundle of handbills. One of the more typical as well as interesting reads, "Let all of us go on strike and organize a demonstration. Overthrow and shoot down Sun Chuanfang. The municipality of Shanghai should be placed under the control of Shanghai citizens. Get rid of the oppressive taxes. Improve the status of the workers. Overthrow the running dogs." (Signed the General Union of Wharf Coolies).

From the N.C. Daily News of October 27th:—Some excitement was not unnaturally caused through an announcement in our shipping list on Monday:—"Arrivals—Per str. Hsin Peking, October 26th from Ningpo, Mr. Hsia, Civil Governor of Chekiang, and party." Inquiries have led to a denial, and it certainly does strike one as somewhat odd that the fugitive official should travel thus openly, under his own name, even on a British ship. Possibly it was a "goak," similar leg-pulls not being unknown, though we pride ourselves that they seldom get into the paper.

"WILD WEST" DAYS RECALLED.

INDIANS REVERT TO OLD TIME METHODS.

SHORT SHRIFF FOR NEGRO DESPERADO.

MONTANA, October 31st.

The famous old redskin days of America's Wild West were momentarily revived yesterday, when Crow Indian braves successfully carried out the ancient tribal stratagem, culminating in the besieging, routing, and killing of a negro murderer.

The negro, ordered to leave the reservation for stealing, took refuge in a barn whence he fired on his pursuers, killing and wounding several police. The Chief of Police called on the Crow warriors, 300 of whom were armed, some with rifles, some with bows and arrows, the tips soaked in petrol. They responded, covered the rifle fire while the archers reached wagons near the barn whence, crouching and warwhooping, they shot flaming darts setting fire to the barn.

The negro rushed out and received a hail of bullets. He fell to the ground and while still alive, a score of the besiegers seized him and threw him on the flames.

RUBBY, October 30th.

Imperial Conference delegates, numbering 225 men and 25 women, are spending six hours at sea to-day aboard the battleship Revenge watching a big naval display off Portland. The Admiralty thoughtfully warned the women guests to wear old thick clothes and small hats, the weather forecast promising a boisterous sea. Forty-eight ships are participating in the operations which include submarine diving, aircraft launching, passage through a minefield while the Revenge has out her paravanes, and a concentration shoot by 15-inch guns by the battle Cruiser Squadron.

THE SUGAR CRISIS.

THE POSITION IN MEXICO.

MEXICO CITY, October 30th.

The Mining Commission of the Chamber of Deputies is studying means to solve the silver crisis caused by Great Britain placing the silver reserve in India on the market, thereby decreasing the price in many countries to below the cost of production.

This is threatening the unemployment of 120,000 miners in Mexico. The American Smelting Mining Co. has advised the Commission to petition the British Parliament, through diplomatic channels, to place the reserve gradually, so as to give the companies time for adjustment. The Company further suggests that Canada and the United States should be invited to present petitions simultaneously.

COAL DISPUTE.

PROSPECTS OF PEACE.

T.U.C. AS MEDIATORS.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUBBY, October 30th.

The coal peace move, initiated by the Trades Union Congress gives promise of more hopeful developments although the Miners' Executive last night would not go quite so far as the Trade Unions mediating committee wished. The Executive desire to obtain the sanction of the Delegates' Conference before putting before the Government a proposal which is understood to provide for district settlements in respect of both wages and hours within the framework of a national arrangement.

The Delegate Conference probably next Thursday will be asked to authorise resumed negotiations on these lines. Last time the delegates met, they requested other Trade Unions to impose a levy to aid the miners and to place an embargo on foreign coal. The Unions concerned are considering these requests on Tuesday and Wednesday so that when the miners' delegates assemble on Thursday they will know the answer to their request. As the Unions are almost certain to refuse to impose either a levy or an embargo, the miners' delegates will presumably be more inclined to agree to mediating proposals recommended to them as the only means of saving something from an otherwise hopeless position.

The coal now available in the country has enabled the Government to double the coal ration permitted for domestic use as from next Friday.

Important Conferences.

RUBBY, October 29th.

The Executive of the Miners' Federation and the General Council of the Trades Union Congress met this afternoon. After they had been in Conference for about one hour the members of the deputation of the Trades Union Congress which on Tuesday discussed the coal situation with the Premier and other Ministers, paid a further visit to Downing Street. They had a conversation of some length with Mr. Winston Churchill after which they returned to confer with the Miners' Executive.

Increased Output.

To-day 260,000 miners are at work. It is estimated that this week the output of British coal will be about 1,100,000 tons. Last week it was 980,000 tons. In the first nine weeks of the stoppage the average weekly output was only 58,000 tons.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

Good News.

LONDON, October 29th.

The Trade Union Congress mediators have succeeded in obtaining concessions from both the Government and the miners and it is believed that conversations for coal peace are proceeding on the lines of the resumption of work on district settlements to be co-ordinated nationally.

Money from Moscow.

Moscow, October 29th.

The Central Council of the Soviet Labour Unions has decided to transfer to the British Miners' Federation a million roubles from the funds collected by the Unions on their behalf.

Conference Adjourned.

LATER.

The conference between the miners' leaders and the T.U.C. mediators has been adjourned till next week to enable the Miners' Executive to consult the National Delegate Conference. The T.U.C. is arranging a further conference with the Prime Minister.

Another Step Forward.

LONDON, October 30th.

The miners have agreed to consider resumption of temporary district settlements co-ordinated nationally pending the hammering out of permanent national agreements. The T.U.C. negotiators are hopeful, including the Government to set negotiations afloat, but a Miners' Delegates' Conference is necessary for the ratification of any provisional plan or settlement.

More Men Return to Work.

LONDON, October 30th.

The Executive of the T.U.C., after meeting the Miners' Executive, went to Downing Street and conferred with Mr. Winston Churchill. It is officially announced that 270,000 miners are working, an increase of 7,000.

SEQUEL TO PROHIBITION SEIZURE.

BRITISH SHIP AND CARGO RELEASED.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

New York, October 31st.

Five thousand cases of whisky valued at $350,000, seized two years ago from the British trawler Frederick, 14 miles off New Jersey, have been ordered to be returned to the owner at St. Pierre.

The order was signed by the Federal judge a fortnight ago and also released the trawler, but the matter has been kept quiet until the safe return of the ship and cargo was assured lest hijackers should capture the cargo.

The court indicated that the search and seizure beyond the twelve-mile limit was legal under the Anglo-American Treaty, but the sale of the liquor there had not violated the Prohibition Act.

AMERICAN ELECTIONS.

VERY LITTLE ENTHUSIASM SHOWN.

WETS' ENERGETIC.

New York, October 30th.

In spite of the desperate efforts of the party leaders to stimulate interest throughout the country in Tuesday's election for the whole of the House of Representatives and a third of the Senate, it cannot be said that the United States is suffering from poll fever.

The reasons generally accepted are, firstly, prosperity is evident throughout the country, therefore it would be inopportune to desert the sure substance for a possible shadow by a sweeping change in the administration; and, secondly, the absence of a commanding figure among the politicians to stir political passions.

It is usual a few days before the election for the prophets on either side to tempt the gods by forecasting certain victory. This year, however, even the most trustworthy are strangely reticent, and the party leaders are scared and puzzled.

The Republicans emphasise the present obvious national prosperity and appeal, therefore, for continued popular support.

The Democrats bank upon the fact that the election comes in the middle of the Presidential term when the administration has had time to make a number disgruntled.

Whilst the League of Nations, war debt settlements, reduction of armaments, and international trade concern a vast number of thinking voters, they are generally excluded from the candidates' platforms, although America's adherence to the World Court loomed large.

It is noteworthy also that for the first time prohibition has assumed a central position at a national election, eight States having decided on test elections by means of a referendum. The "Wets" are particularly energetic, especially in New York and Illinois, where they are determined to exhibit their full strength.

The Republicans command a majority of only 29 in the House of Representatives, whilst they can afford to lose only three or four seats in the Senate.

An unbiased opinion is that neither House will change its complexion.

President Votes.

LATER.

The re-election of Mr. William M. Butler as Senator for Massachusetts is apparently so doubtful that President Coolidge has made an exception to the rule he laid down in the early days of the campaign that he would maintain an attitude of impersonal detachment and candidates must fight without his assistance.

President Coolidge has written a letter supporting Senator Butler and is going to Massachusetts to vote although he is able to record his preference by post.

U.S. MINERS' WAGE INCREASE.

MORGAN TOWN (West Virginia), October 30th.

The miners in the Monongahela and Fairmount fields have been awarded increased wages—the former between 25 and 35 per cent. for skilled men and between 20 and 40 per cent. for day workers. The latter get 20 per cent. on the mining rate and a rise of $2.12 daily for day workers.

MORE COTTON RESTRICTION.

THE SUGAR GLUT.

FAMOUS FIRM'S TEMPORARY STOPPAGE.

LONDON, October 30th.

Messrs. Tate and Lyle explain that the stoppage of their factory is only temporary whilst the present glut of Home-grown beet and Continental dumped sugar prevails. A number of employees will be retained, working on specialties.

[A London cable of Wednesday's date stated:—The sugar refinery of Tate and Lyle at Plaisiow, the largest in Britain, employing 2,800 men, has closed down owing to the slump in the sugar trade. A factor in the situation, according to an official of the firm, is the marketing of 150,000 tons of sugar from the subsidised homegrown sugar beet industry.]

CITY SENSATION.

WOLSELEY MOTORS' POSITION.

LONDON, October 29th.

A sensation was caused in the City to-day by the announcement that joint receivers and managers for the Wolseley Motors Limited had been appointed by Mr. Justice Tomlin, in the Chancery Court, on the application for a first mortgage on the debenture stockholders. Counsel stated that the reason two managers were appointed was because of the magnitude of the undertaking, employing 3,000 workers and the fact that there were large contracts on hand.

BIG DUTCH WORKS.

HUGE DYKE CONTRACTED FOR.

AMSTERDAM, October 29th.

The Dutch portion of the Belgian Stabilisation Loan has been largely over-subscribed.

Under an arrangement with the Government, a limited liability company to carry out Zuyder Zee works, has been founded with a capital of 6,000,000 guilders, supplied by four great Dutch contracting firms. The Government has concluded an agreement with the Company to construct a dyke thirty kilometres long, separating the Zuyder Zee from the North Sea at a cost estimated at 60,000,000 florins, (about £8,500,000).

THE BRUSSELS RIOTS.

CHINESE STUDENTS TO BE EXPELLED.

BRUSSELS, October 29th.

M. Vandervelde has announced that all the Chinese students who were arrested at the street demonstration against the Sino-Belgian Treaty have been released. Some of them have been ordered to leave the country, and the Government considers that the remainder should be treated in the same manner as Belgian offenders.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

NEW U.S. AMMUNITION DEPOT.

WASHINGTON, October 29th.

Profiting by the lesson of the explosion on July 10th, at Lake Denmark, New Jersey, the Naval Department is selecting a site for the new ammunition depot, 100,000 acres in the heart of Nevada, ten miles from any settlement. Apart from the fact that the site is isolated from any thickly-populated district, it is felt that its remoteness will render attack unlikely in wartime.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

RESOURCES OF THE EMPIRE.

GENERAL SURVEY OF PROBLEMS.

RUBBY, October 30th.

As a result of the meetings of the Imperial Conference during the past fortnight, progress has been made in the discussion of all the major problems that confront the Conference; namely, foreign affairs, Empire defence, inter-Imperial relations, communication and trade. The broad consideration of these questions has now been completed and several of them will not again be reviewed in the plenary session until the committee to which they have been remitted, advance with recommendations to give effect to the desire expressed by the delegates for a greater measure of co-ordination in the various fields.

A preliminary examination of the resources of the Empire made a deep impression on the delegates, who have displayed determination to share in their development and thus to promote closer inter-Imperial trade. With a view to devising machinery for this purpose, several Committees are at work. Hitherto the only organisation existing to promote improvements in marketing overseas food products for the benefit of producer and consumer, has been the Imperial Economic Committee, established by the British Government as a result of the 1923 Conference. Its work has been appreciated by all the Dominions and the possibility of an extension of the idea it embodies, is much discussed. The general Economic Sub-Committee to which this and other matters affecting trade have been referred, is meeting almost continuously.

Questions relating to Imperial communications and Overseas settlement are now under close examination, and the keen interest of the delegates has been aroused by the work of the Research Committee, whose preliminary enquiry has emphasised the need for closer co-operation and an exchange of information between institutions engaged in different parts of the Empire. At this early stage of the conference, definite results are not, of course, to be expected, but the examination of the Empire resources has undoubtedly quickened the imagination of the delegates and a programme of investigation has been begun which promises to become a permanent feature of Imperial relations.

Agricultural Problems.

At its second meeting to-day the research special sub-committee heard a statement on the nature and work of the organisations conducting researches in various spheres. Lord Bledisloe, the Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture, stated that the Imperial Agricultural Research Conference would be held in the early autumn of next year, when matters of common interest would be thrashed out. All the Dominions and most of the Colonies had accepted invitations to that Conference, which should be very representative. There were were at present 15 well-equipped and staffed research institutes dealing with agricultural science in England and Wales, besides various institutes in Scotland.

Fishery Research.

Mr. H. G. Maurice, Secretary of Fisheries, in giving an account of the organisations conducting fishery research, mentioned that representatives of the principal fishing Powers in Western Europe met once yearly and worked at programmes of research in co-operation. Similarly, there was already a large amount of co-operation with the Dominions and other parts of the Empire and he expressed the hope that a permanent Imperial organisation for the exchange of information within the Empire might be set up, particularly in view of the growing importance of fish as food.

Mr. Elliott, Chairman of the Research Committee of the Empire Marketing Board, said that the committee, in dealing with problems of food and its production, would survey a wide field of investigation. He mentioned that the Committee was assisting extensive research throughout the Empire of the problem of the mineral contents of national pastures which had been scarcely investigated at all. The Committee regarded as of great importance the research in general tropical agriculture. It seemed highly desirable to treat this problem as a whole and not as a problem of growing cotton or any one particular product. He thought a chain of research stations throughout the tropics, belt might well prove the key to many problems of general as well as of local interest.

Insect Pests.

Dr. Marshall, Director of the Imperial Bureau of Entomology, in explaining the importance of the work of the Bureau, alluded particularly to the distribution of noxious insects which accompanies an increase of commerce throughout the world. In this way, insects are transported from areas where they are preyed upon by parasites to areas where those parasites do not exist and thus they multiply enormously. Further, as an increasing amount of land comes under cultivation in various countries the balance of nature is upset and the menace of insect pests grows. It was important that the agriculturist should come to the entomologist while crops were still safe from insect pests.

"When did the robbery occur?" the cross-examining lawyer asked the witness. "I think —," he began. "We don't care what you think—we want to know what you know," remarked the lawyer. "Well, I may as well get off the stand, then," said the witness. "I can't talk without thinking. I'm no lawyer."

KOWLOON BRITISH SCHOOL FORMER PUPILS.

NEW SPORTS GROUND OPENED.

YESTERDAY'S "AT HOME."

Yesterday afternoon, the Former Pupils' Association of the Kowloon British School formally opened their new sports ground at King's Park. There are three tennis courts and football pitches.

The "At Home" held at the new ground yesterday was largely attended by members and friends. The proceedings were ad fresco, tennis being the principal attraction.

The three courts were occupied, but the hockey match later in the afternoon between the Association team and a team representing the Hongkong Hockey Club was watched by a large number of spectators. The Club team proved superior, winning by four goals to nil.

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent by all. Tea was provided. Among those present were Mr. A. E. Wood, Director of Education, and Mr. G. E. Nightingale, headmaster of the Central British School.

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS.

YULETIDE GREETINGS FOR HOME FOLK.

Although only the beginning of November, the advent of Christmas is already looming ahead and Hongkong shops are making preparations for people wishing to send Home yuletide greetings, etc.

By the middle of November the Christmas mails for Home, Europe, America, and other parts of the world will be closing, and therefore there is none too much time for residents to select the gifts and greetings they wish to send to the home-folk.

Nothing could be more acceptable in the way of greeting at Christmas to the Homesides relatives and friends than a Christmas card which conveys with it a touch of the East. Such can be obtained at Messrs. Kelly & Walsh, Ltd., who are offering, as will be seen by an announcement elsewhere, a choice ivory card, their own exclusive design, engraved from plates with greetings in black and Chinese seal characters, embossed in vermilion. The silhouette studies are done with a gold background, and are typical of Chinese everyday life.

These attractive cards may be obtained at $2 per set (including envelopes).

REV. H. R. L. SHEPPARD.

NONCONFORMIST TRIBUTE TO HIS BROAD OUTLOOK.

A story illustrating the broad-minded attitude of the Rev. H. R. L. Sheppard, who has just resigned from the living of St. Martin-in-the-Fields owing to ill-health, is told in the current issue of the British Weekly.

"In one of our talks with Dr. Clifford," it is stated, "the veteran Baptist told us how he had walked on a free Sunday morning to St. Martin-in-the-Fields, and had joined Mr. Sheppard's large congregation. On learning that Dr. Clifford was among the worshippers, the Vicar sent a messenger to invite him to join in the Communion service which followed, and said to his people, as it proceeded, 'We have the happiness of welcoming Dr. Clifford here.'"

"By gracious acts of this kind Mr. Sheppard has endeared himself in no ordinary way to his fellow-citizens, and amidst his own wide circle reunion was already achieved."

FIVE DEATHS ON THE L.N.E.R.

RULES FOR WALKING ON LINE.

A verdict of accidental death was returned at an inquest at Hocknall on the five railway painters who were killed while walking along the L.N.E.R. line near that place in a dense fog.

Samuel Prior, one of the survivors of the party of men, said that as they reached a bend in the line a goods train passed on the down line, and then suddenly a passenger train came towards them. They did not know that a passenger train was due.

The Coroner, Mr. Herbert Bradwell, said that it was generally understood that the men were to keep clear of the metals, and asked "Are any special instructions given either verbally or in writing as to what procedure should be taken in case of fog?"

Witness: Only a rule book. What is the rule on the subject?—No. 273 states to the effect that when walking on the line always keep to the right-hand side of an oncoming train. The Coroner then proceeded to quote from the rule. "One section stated that when of necessity a gang of men was working on the line in a fog a ganger, or another man, must send along a man in each direction to warn the gang of the approach of trains either by using a foghorn or loud whistle."

The Coroner (to witness): What I want to know is whether you were conversant with these rules?

Witness: I don't think they were intended to apply to men such as us. Have you read a copy of these rules?—Yes.

Answering Inspector Holmes, the witness said they could not have walked in single file very comfortably.

CRICKET.

INTERPORT TRIAL.

It is presumably correct to open any account of a match with a reference to the weather and to the attendance, if one wishes to keep within traditional limits. Very well then. In the beautiful weather (this is true) before an enthusiastic audience (I counted seven myself) yet another Interport trial commenced on Saturday. Hayward's side went in first and Ramsay and Madar, went in. Bowker and Owen Hughes, at the Law Courts and opened the bowling. In the latter's second over Madar put one to first slip but Hancock, for once, dropped what seemed to be an easy chance. After that neither bowler appeared to be bowling very well until with 40 on the board Bowker seemed to find his length. He cleared the ball three times running. The first time the ball went just over the leg bail and rebounded from Ismail's gloves on to the wicket. Madar made tracks for the pavilion but was very properly brought back. It was quite clear, from the scoring box at all events, that he was not out. From this point Bowker seemed to find his length and bowled very well. He had been very much off before. Ramsay touched a fast one on the off and Hancock made amends by taking him magnificently with one hand at first slip. Rumjahn succeeded and snicked his first ball for four just between Hancock and Owen Hughes. The new-comer shaped very badly and after a somewhat scratchy couple of overs, he snicked an off one from Cantrell, who had relieved Owen Hughes, very hard and Hughes at second slip took a magnificent catch left-handed high up. These two catches relieved the monotony of some pretty poor ground fielding. The throwing in to the wicket in particular was perfectly dreadful in most cases. The scoring slowed down at this period and Summers went on for Bowker. A little later on, after Madar had been batting an hour and ten minutes for twenty runs, he retired. He should have been out at the very beginning of his innings. Dobbie then came in and aided by some very poor bowling proceeded to take tea with the opposition. Morris hit very well indeed hooking excellently and taking four off practically every loose ball. Dobbie also showed at one stage he was a real bat, and for a happy space one began to feel that he really had some batting in Hongkong. Wales and Bowker resumed but the hitting went on—easily the best cricket we have seen this year. With 138 on the board Morris retired with an uncommonly nice 44 to his credit made by crisp hitting all round the wicket. Dobbie whilst hitting the loose ones very hard, showed very good defence especially against Bowker whose length improved later. He continued to play excellent cricket until the innings was declared without further loss for 181. Lightfoot had little of the bowling and was not out 11.

Mitchell and Bridgeland went in first and in Goodwin's second over the former should have been easily taken at second slip by Ramsay, who seldom drops things like that. Bridgeland had rather bad luck as he tried to bang a short one from Parker to long leg and skied it to Rumjahn at first slip. (26-15.) Two runs later Mitchell played almost the same shot as before and Rumjahn made no mistake. (28-21.) After some quiet cricket Bowker was yoked by Goodwin and a few balls later Campbell played outside a good-length one apparently from the same bowler and was bowled. At this period Goodwin was keeping a nice length and bowling very well. Owen Hughes and Hancock seemed likely to stay when Owen Hughes had a misunderstanding with one of Goodwin's off balls and was very finely caught low down at first slip by Rumjahn—his third. Next ball Lyal was out l.b.w. Ismail stayed for some time but was beaten several times and finally was bowled in having a clip at Parker who had relieved Goodwin. (65-77.) Col. Cantrell came in, and shortly after Hancock swung at what appeared to be almost a full toss from Parker and missed it. The ball seemed to pitch between the block and the stumps. Wales, the newcomer, was caught by Lightfoot at mid-on with no addition to the score. The light about this time was falling fast, but as far as could be seen through the darkness, Summers is worth a much higher place than No. 11. Stumps were drawn at 5.40, before the last wicket fell.

Undoubtedly the features of the afternoon was the stand between Morris and Dobbie, and the latter may well feel pleased with his debut in Hongkong cricket. He showed good defence as well as power to hit the bad ball hard. His bowling, fast medium, looks as if it might be useful with a little more practice. He comes off the pitch fast, but was on the short side the whole time. Ramsay batted nicely, but Rumjahn was dead off, though he fielded excellently at first slip. Madar seemed to concentrate on stopping in—no very hard task on the perfect wicket—and he played few noticeably good shots. Morris was excellent. Bowker seems to be having a bad patch at present. He bowled a few very good overs but there were far too many loose balls. Owen Hughes was not in his best form. I understand that it takes Captain Barrett at the wicket to call this forth.

It is a little difficult to account for the absolute collapse of Hancock's side, though admittedly the light failed and Goodwin bowled really well—I thought him much better than Parker though there was not very much difference in their analysis.

The wicket-keeping question is as difficult as ever. It looks as if Ismail is not nearly as good on a fast wicket as on a slow one while Jex if anything is better. On the day's play there was not much between them, remembering that Ismail had a lot of bad throwing in to to put up with.

On to-day's form, and assuming Pearce is fit on his return I am inclined to think that the probabilities may be narrowed down to Hancock, Pearce, Owen Hughes, Bowker, Dobbie, Ramsay, Hayward, Parker, Morris, Goodwin or Reed if fit. Lightfoot, Ismail or Jex, Mitchell, and Sayer, also if fit. This is, of course, provided that the K.O.S.B.'s have nothing else to take out of the bag for us.

The worst feature of Saturday's cricket was perhaps the fielding. The throwing in on the whole was not good, and there was a good deal of slowness in getting down to the ball and also of stopping it with the feet. This may be excused in stout and elderly old gentlemen who write for the papers, but not in possible Interport players.

NO LEAGUE MATCHES.

FIRST CENTURIES OF THE SEASON.

The distinction of scoring the first century of the season fell to Pay-Lieut. Hussey, the well-known Navy player, who compiled 124 against the University first eleven at Pokfulam on Saturday. Later in the afternoon, Brace also passed the century mark at, and for, Kowloon against the Royal Engineers. The latter scored two runs more.

The two league matches down for decision were put off. Civil Service played the Royal Artillery in a "friendly," while the Tanar-K.A.O.C. match was not played at all, both teams being "groundless." It is not expected that the League will begin in earnest until the Interport matches are over.

The first class matches were productive of very good batting, the players no doubt being helped by the fast wicket. There were many high scores. H. F. Westlake (H.K.C.C.) made the highest score in the second class matches, reaching 60. E. de Sousa (Recreio) was second with 58, not out. There was nothing extraordinary in the bowling, and the best performances were by Baker (Civil Service) who took 3 wickets for 18 runs and Lieut. Halsey, who took 4 for 24.

The various matches played were as follows:—

University v. Royal Navy.

Batting first, the Royal Navy, holders of the first division shield, compiled the huge total of 278 for four wickets only. Pay-Lieut. Hussey contributed 124 in very good style. The bowling of the University side was better than the scores indicate. The Royal Navy's innings was:—
Lieut. Comdr. Armitage, st. Ling, b Sudan 85
Pay-Lieut. Hussey, b Ling 124
Sparks, c E. de Sousa, b Gittins 25
Lieut. Sillioe, not out 45
Lieut. Halsey, c Sudan, b Balhat 10
Extras 9

Total (for 4 wickets, dec.) 278

Lieut. Emley, Ling, Sturges, Capt. Lake, Lieut. Clifford and Lieut. Beatty did not bat.

The University replied with a total of 135, of which Balhat, their "star" bowler, contributed 57 by hard hitting. E. de Sousa (19), Dr. Samy (19) and Youngs (10) were the others to reach double figures. Lieut. Halsey took 4 wickets for 24 runs, and Sturges 3 for 23.

Kowloon C.C. v. Royal Engineers.

The Royal Engineers, winners of the second division shield last year, played their first match in the premier division and were matched against the Kowloon C.C. who appear to be out to win the first division shield this year. Batting first they made the satisfactory total of 146 all out, but found the Kowloon players in good form. The Home team replied with 204 runs for 6 wickets. C.Q.M.S. Rose, opening for the papers, made the highest score of his side with 52 while Capt. Brownjohn and Q.M.S. Roberts added 39 and 24 respectively. C.S.M. Mennard was not out with 11. Kowloon had the pleasure of seeing one of their men, Brace, scoring a century on the home ground. Brace made 129 before being smartly stumped by Capt. Brownjohn. E. F. Fincher 20, W. G. Guest 19 and H. E. Maskell 12 reached double figures.

Civil Service v. Royal Artillery.

Not since the days when they had Capt. Havelock Davis, the Oxford blue, a few years ago, have the Royal Artillery put any figure in local cricket, but by their match which ended in a draw, against Civil Service on Saturday they must be considered a factor in the league again.

Fielding first, they did not allow their opponents to score rapidly, although Civil Service made 168 runs (declared) for 6 wickets. F. J. de Rome 27, F. E. Lawrence 43, R. G. Robertson 30, A. E. Wood 2, and F. Baker 29 not out made up the home side's total, while the R.A.'s bowlers showed an average of about 4 runs to each over.

The Royal Artillery replied with 138 for 7 wickets when stumps were drawn. Capt. Howard was well on the way to making a century at the time with 82 not out. Col. Edmunds supported him well with 18, and Lieut. Smith with 15. Baker was successful in taking 3 wickets for 18 runs.

Second Division.

I.R.C. v. H.K.C.C.

The most interesting match in the second division was played at Soekunpoo between the Indian Recreation Club and the Hongkong Cricket Club, resulting in a win for the latter Club by 19 runs. The home team batted first facing Vallack and J. E. Hancock (Kowloon) who got wickets cheaply until A. S. Ismail went in. He stayed in till the end and lost his wicket for a very helpful contribution of 30 runs. The innings realised 90 runs. Hancock secured 5 wickets for 48 runs and Vallack 3 for 29. Hazell and Jones took one wicket each, the former for no runs. The Hongkong Cricket Club could not get going also and had it not been for the stand of Westlake would have lost the match. They scored 100 runs. Going in first Westlake went on to make 60 runs, which set his side assured of winning. Hancock and Vallack scored 12 runs each. The others failed to reach double figures. D. Mohamed took 3 wickets for 17 runs and Madar 3 for 30.

Police v. Recreio.

Playing on their own ground, the Police met and defeated the Recreio by 73 runs. The Home team found their form making 138 runs and dismissing their opponents who were one short for 64. For the winning side F. E. Booker scored 51 runs, W. E. Meadows 33, Dr. Craig 11, T. H. King 17, A. Johnson 21. For the Portuguese J. Noronha and H. Barros with 13 each were the only ones to reach double figures. Lacey took 4 wickets for 21 runs and Johnson 5 for 39.

Recreio 2nd XI v. China Light.

Played on the Recreio ground, the home side winning by 121 runs to 109. A feature of the match was the batting of E. de Sousa who hit merrily for 88 not out. G. Remedios scored 19. A. B. Cleme secured 5 wickets for 39 runs. For the China Light Co. F. Hamblin was the highest scorer with 45, while Finson run out 11, Forrest 15 and A. R. M. Samy added useful scores.

YESTERDAY'S MATCH.

Volunteers v. A. A. Rumjahn's XI.

A friendly whole-day match was played at Pokfulam yesterday between the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps and a scratch team headed by Mr. A. A. Rumjahn, the University captain. It was a 12-a-side match. The Volunteers batted first and were dismissed for 164. Ramsay and E. C. Fincher put up a third wicket partnership for 54 runs.

Mr. Rumjahn's team passed their opponents' score at the eighth wicket. Their seventh wicket partnership between E. Zimmern and E. F. Fincher realised 73 runs.

Next Saturday's Event.

Next Saturday there will be the opening cruise and ladies' day, the official opening of another yachting season. An interesting programme has been arranged and there should be a good attendance, provided the weather remains fine. There will be the cruiser race for owners, ladies' races in all the racing classes, scratch fours and pairs in the racing section, and bowls on the green. The Navy will add much to the interest and sport of the day. There will be another herthon Boat race, and it is hoped also to get enough boats out for a sailing race for whalers, cutters, gigs and galleys. Altogether it should be a very enjoyable day and many visitors are expected. Tea will be served on the lawn, and it is hoped that Mrs. A. J. B. Stirling, wife of Rear-Admiral Stirling, will be able to be present to give away the prizes at the conclusion of the events.

The sailing programme is now being prepared and will be issued within a few days. On Wednesday there is the "Trevesa" Trophy race, and entries for this close to-morrow. There are expected to be over a dozen boats competing. Launches will leave Queen's Pier at 3 p.m., the race starting at 4 p.m.

SCHOOL CRICKET.

Mr. A. E. Wood, the Director of Education, has arranged a series of inter-school matches, the first of which was played during last week between Queen's College "A" and the Indian School teams on the I.R.C. ground. Mr. Wood was himself present at the match, which was won, over two innings by the Indian School by four wickets.

THE A.D.C. AND CRICKET WEEK.

Hongkong is going to fling off its gloom—let us hope for good, and all this month, and is coming out in its pristine splendour and gaiety.

The Interport cricket match begins on November 11th, and though unfortunately we shall not, this time, have the pleasure of a visit from Malaya, with the added zest of the opportunity to take our revenge for the whacking they gave us last year, Shanghai is sending a thoroughly representative team down here, which is going to take some beating.

This may be looked upon as the opening of the Winter Season. The A.D.C. has chosen the last day of the Shanghai match on which to open their 57th season, and in doing so makes a large contribution to what promises to be an exceedingly pleasant occasion. As everybody will have noticed, after the opening night on Saturday, November 13th, the A.D.C. is going to be at the Theatre Royal every night in the following week except Wednesday, the 17th, and the final performance is on Saturday, the 20th.

It is an excellent scheme to break away from the usual custom for once, and to put on four short sketches on one night instead of one play. It serves to break up the evening and to add to the sociability of the occasion.

The Hongkong Hotel is also making a contribution to the occasion on every night on which the A.D.C. is playing, special dinners will be served for those who wish to make up their own parties for the Theatre.

It might be as well to remind both diners and theatre-goers that tables at the Hongkong Hotel, and seats at the theatre are limited in number.

The numerous "last minutes" should remember that Hongkong is going to be very full in Interport Week and should not presume too far on their previous good jobs!

LAWN BOWLS.

ROYAL SPEY CUP COMPETITION.

HOLDERS DEFEATED.

Playing on Kowloon Cricket Club green on Saturday the Craigengower Club defeated the Kowloon Bowling Green Club in the Royal Spey Cup competition. The C.C.C. thoroughly deserved their victory over the holders of the Cup. The two best players of the respective teams were Omar, of the C.C.C., and Farrell, of the K.B.G.C. Scores:—
C.C.C.:—Bennett, Bass, Omar and Bradbury (skip) 23.
K.B.G.C.:—Hazel, Farrell, W. Macfarlane and Whitley (skip) 14.

Playing in the open doubles championship on Saturday, on the C.C.C. green T. Ferguson and Jas. Sloan defeated J. C. Brown and R. J. Goodman by 13-17.

Next Week's Games.

Next Saturday the Tai Koo Recreation Club bring their season to a close with a rink game against "The Rest of the League." It is anticipated that every Club will be represented by a rink, and some keen play should be witnessed.

The Y.M.C.A. make their debut at bowls next Saturday when they meet the Kowloon Bowling Green Club on the latter's green.

SCOUT SWIMMERS.

ANNUAL AQUATIC SPORTS.

KEEN CONTESTS AND RECORDS BROKEN.

The annual aquatic sports of the Hongkong Boy Scouts' Association were held under ideal weather conditions at the Victoria Recreation Club on Saturday afternoon. All the events were keenly contested, and several previous records were broken.

In the 50 yards Senior Championship, S. V. Gittins (5th Troop) accomplished the distance in 27.2-5 secs., thus lowering the record held by A. May in 1922, by 2 secs.

J. McCubbin, of the 9th Troop, was another record breaker: He swam the 50 yards junior backstroke in 31.1-3, which was a little over 2 seconds better than the record held by J. Laing in 1924. Fould's 1923 record of 37.3-3 in the 50 yards junior championship, was smashed by A. McCubbin, who did the distance in 34.3-5.

The Inter-Troop Relay Race was won by the 5th Troop in 1 min. 34.1-5 secs.
